Training Focus

Over the two days, we will emphasize:

- Correct Toyama-ryu Iaido & Battodo fundamentals
- Refining timing, distancing, posture, and control
- Clean mechanics for efficient, safe, and repeatable cutting principles
- Structured training that supports both individual improvement and dojo leadership development

Who Should Attend

- Iaido/Battodo practitioners of all levels (with appropriate expectations and safety standards)
- Dojo leaders and senior students looking to strengthen teaching fundamentals
- Katana enthusiasts interested in traditional Japanese sword methodology and disciplined practice

What to Bring (Recommended)

- Keikogi and hakama (or appropriate training uniform)
- Iaito or shinken (as appropriate to your level and safety requirements)
- Notebook for notes
- Any required safety equipment your school typically uses for sword training
(If you're traveling and need guidance on what to bring, contact us and we'll help.)
